GOVERNOR BLAINE TO ASK REMISSION OF MILLION IN TAXES PAYABLE TO STATE

MADISON, Wis.—Governor Blaine has started his tax reducing program. Tuesday he announced that after a careful study of the general fund in the state treasury, he will ask for remission of $1,115,000 on the mill taxes payable to the state treasury. This is the first general remission of taxes since October, 1912. The amount to be remitted is nearly the amount which would be needed to operate the normal schools the coming year. Normal schools are supported by a state mill tax. This action of the governor means that $1,115,000 in taxes ordinarily raised will not be collected this year owing to the large treasury balance. He declares it will in no way impair the balance.

"The administration is determined to reduce the tax burden of the state without impairing the efficiency of a single department of state service," declared Governor Blaine.

Moreover, Gov. Blaine finds that there is an additional amount of not less than $1,770,000 which can be carried over from 1923 and 1924, a surplus available in 1925 to meet the federal aid for state trunk highway construction—should the anticipated highway receipts fall short of meeting the federal aid. In addition to the regular fund receipts.

Predicts Bigger Savings

The governor also announces that from a study made of the anticipated receipts and disbursements for 1924, an equal or larger saving can be reasonably anticipated.

This means a saving for the two years of not less than $4,000,000 and then the general fund annual balance will exceed that of former years. All mill taxes are on real estate and the reductions will come to the owners of real property.

It is pointed out also that the governor's proposed appropriations, which for the biennium, would amount to $6,827,000.

Ku Klux Klan Cross Burns On Granddad?

Hundreds of persons living in the east end of the city were treated to an unusual spectacle last night, when a huge cross on the crest of Granddad bluff was lighted and burned brightly for a quarter hour.

Speculating as to what it could mean, a majority of citizens who saw the fiery cross opined the Ku Klux Klan was staging an initiation ceremony on the bluff. The burning cross plays an important part in the spectacular features of the Klan ceremony.

A few persons thought it might be a prank by school-boys. While an announcement has ever been made of the existence of a Ku Klux Klan organization in La Crosse, it is known that organizers of the Klan worked in La Crosse for several weeks last year.

Won't Use Force But Will Take Case Into Courts if Meeting is Prevented

BEFORE an audience that packed the circuit courtroom to overflowing Monday night, the state trunk highway layout committee of the legislature, a number of the state highway commission and the commission's engineering staff heard the wishes of the people of river towns, from Trempealeau to Prairie du Chien, for a state scenic highway from La Crosse to Prairie du Chien, expressed in speeches and petitions.

The desires of the public for additional state highways were succinctly stated by R. W. Davis, chairman of the La Crosse county board. Mr. Davis presented six projects to the committee. The state committee members gave serious attention to all talks on the proposed scenic route.

Davis Tells of Projects

"The first project which we think is of prime importance," said Mr. Davis, "is the scenic route along the river from La Crosse to Prairie du Chien. I don't believe there is any argument over the wonderful natural beauties of this great gorge of the Mississippi river. There is nothing in Mississippi that surpasses it. But there is another side that should be considered as well as the commercial value of such a highway. It will be the means of communication between the river cities and the little villages and hamlets along the river.

"The next project that we think necessary is a state highway acting as a connecting link for state highways 11, 33 and 21, beginning at Glen Valley to Middle Ridge and then up the Dutch Creek county road to Banzon. This road would be of immense value to farmers. The third project would connect Banzon with Melrose and Black River Falls. This proposed route would be the shortest possible highway between these towns and is essentially a road from Melrose to Sparta also could be built with only one high hill. There is plenty of land available for the road building. People living along the proposed route are favorable toward it. Most of the rich of way would be donated by the farmers. Everything

Not Drunk, Say Police

Policeman Lenth said he got into the Ford touring with Cassidy and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Truman, owners of the car, and Miss Stephenson, and that Cassidy drove back to police headquarters. In response to questions by Sgt. Smith, Lenth said that Cassidy turned the car around in Third street and turned several corners before headquarters was reached and that he handled the car as well as any sober, capable driver would.

Hans Dunderman and Joseph Petrick, employees at the gas works, testified that they heard screams and upon running into the street, saw the body of Searsho lying in the street about 10 or 15 feet north of the lot line of the Green building at Third and Grove streets, indicating that the body had been carried from the north side of Grove street, a distance of 35 or 40 feet before Searsho fell off the hood of the car. The auto traveled 40 or 50 feet further before it stopped.

Head Broke Windshield

Arthur Johnson, who with his wife, occupied the front seat of the Ford with Cassidy, when he testified the stand by District Attorney Gordon and questioned by him and Coroner Raymond Dwyer, who presided at the inquest, said that Searsho was struck by the right fender and light side of the radiator and that the body was thrown up on the hood. Searsho's head struck the windshield, Johnson said, breaking the glass.

Fred H. Bartwell, attorney for Cassidy, announced after the jury had reported, that Cassidy had paid the hospital expenses incurred by Searsho and that he would do all in his power to aid in defraying funeral expenses.

Jane Stephenson, Disappears

Burt C. Smith, one of the jurors, after all the witnesses had testified, asked where Jane Stephenson, who was one of the six in the auto when it hit Searsho, was and why she had not been called to testify. He was informed by Attorney Bartwell and Mr. Gordon that Miss Stephenson was alleged to have left the city suddenly in company with a young woman who obtained a divorce last Monday in circuit court and that the sheriff and police had made every effort to locate her. It was believed that she had gone to Milwaukee and the sheriff's office notified the police there to hunt for her. The Milwaukee police were unsuccessful in their quest, Mr. Bartwell said.

Reorganize Government

PARIS.—A delayed message from Sofia to the Havas Agency dated yesterday reads: "The Bulgarian government, after resigning, has been reconstituted with the same members except Minister of Justice Smilov. The National Liberal party to which Radoslavoff (former premier) belongs, is no longer represented in the ministry."

Movement Is Scattered

PARIS.—By the Associated Press.—The official version of the situation in Bulgaria as set forth in dispatches here Tuesday is as follows:

The soviet movement is scattered, being confined to small settlements among which there is no cohesion and which have little power of resistance. The work of repression is very difficult because the movement is most general in the mountainous regions and the small Bulgarian army has insufficient strength to deal with such scattered uprisings over a wide spread area.

troops are able to reach the scene of an outbreak the communists surrender immediately and generally it is not necessary for the troops to use violence.

The life of the soviet regime in the localities where it has been established has been between two and fourteen hours in length.

Northern Bulgaria is now the region most affected. The soviet in the south appear to have been discouraged by the prompt action of the authorities. Their last attempt at asserting power was when they cut communications between Sofia and Constantinople, but these lines have been re-established and order has been restored.

Expressing the hope that no excessive measures would be required, Governor Walton asserted nevertheless "the shoot to kill" orders would be given the troops should such drastic action be necessary to disperse legislators.

With the crisis approaching, the executive commanded all male citizens of the state between the ages of 21 and 45 years to hold themselves in readiness "to come to the assistance of the sovereign state of Oklahoma" when summoned by the governor or the adjutant general. The "citizen soldiers" were ordered to prepare to bear such arms as they possess or are able to obtain.

In Defiance of Law

The governor's order declared that the proposed house session would be an unlawful assembly dominated by the Ku Klux Klan, which organization under its martial law proclamation is declared to be an enemy of the state of Oklahoma. Furthermore, he charged the meeting would be "in defiance and violation of the statutes of the state of Oklahoma, now under military law, and also contrary to the constitution and laws of the state." It would be a direct attempt to break the peace, he asserted.

If the legislators attempt to hold the session at any place in the state other than the state capitol, Adjutant General Markham is instructed to take steps to prevent such a move.

PHYSICIANS at St. Francis hospital are holding out little hope for the life of Harmon A. Payne, 1928 Wood street, who Sunday morning about 10 o'clock, sustained a fracture of the skull while loading ice into a car from the Eberhart ice house on the north side.

Dr. E. E. Gallagher, attending the patient, said Tuesday morning that he remained in a semi-conscious condition since the accident. He was unable to predict the outcome.

At the Eberhart company office, no details of the accident were available. Mr. Payne having been left alone in the ice house for about ten minutes, during which time the accident occurred. When other workmen returned to the building, Payne was found lying unconscious.

It was reported that Payne is an employee of the Burlington railroad in the north side shops, and that after his regular working hours, he has been helping out at the Eberhart company.

PARIS.—By The Associated Press.—Premier Poincare's next move in view of Germany's economic surrender will be to ask the inter-allied reparations commission to deal with the new situation. It was indicated Tuesday. As soon as the German government officially withdraws the resistance orders, directions will be sent General Degoutte to make the Ruhr occupation as nearly "invisible" as possible.

The action of the German government yesterday is not regarded here as finally clearing the situation in the Ruhr. The resistance there will be considered as ended when Berlin withdraws all orders given the functionaries and people of the Ruhr. Decision Long Expected

The French premier and his associates in the cabinet appear to have received the news soberly and without the thrill which it has given the French people. The authorities having long expected the German decision Premier Poincare, who is at his summer home in Sampigny, will return tonight.

The passing over of the pending problems to the reparations commission would be merely a formality. Consequently it is forecast Premier Poincare's first endeavor will be to arrive at an understanding with the British government as to what shall be done.

Premier Poincare will communicate with the British premier as soon as Berlin has taken the first direct step toward a settlement.

ESTATE OF $200 GROWS TO
1,500,000,000,000 MARKS

SHEBOYGAN, Wis.—Adolph Pfister, vice president of the Bank of Sheboygan, has a new slant on the comparison between the good old reliable almighty dollar and the debased German mark.

Mr. Pfister had occasion recently to forward $200 to a German heir of a Sheboygan estate.

The receipt for the money came back to the banker and announced that it was in acknowledgment of the payment of money equivalent to 1,500,000,000,000 marks.

When the mark was at a parity with United States money there was not that many marks in the entire German empire. If, indeed, in the world.

In normal times, the sum would have amounted to about 1,200 marks.

You'll Get Rid of Blackheads Sure

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calamine powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Blackheads are a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The calamine powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

Thrift Will Help Business Says Babson

Sees Improvement in Increased Bank Deposits.

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—Helping business by saving money instead of spending it may sound strange but that is what Roger W. Babson, the statistician, proposes today, in a statement on the investment value of savings accounts.

"Why it is that people differentiate between bank accounts and investments is more than I can comprehend," says Mr. Babson. "Apparently men and women feel that the money which they have in the bank is not 'invested.' They seem to think of it as tied up in bags in the vault of the bank. The fact is that just as soon as you deposit a dollar in the bank, that dollar is loaned by the bank to some one to build a home, or to buy merchandise, or is used for the purchase of bonds. When these bonds are bought, the money is still used by the company issuing the bonds—perhaps for the developing of a water power or the buying of railroad equipment or some other equally useful purpose. Therefore, money deposited in a bank is invested just as truly as any other money. The main difference is that it is invested by some one with experience and training instead of by one who may know little of financial matters.

"Bank accounts have all the advantages of the most attractive investments. Among these may be mentioned the following three: (1) Bank accounts are safe. Statistics would probably show that smaller losses come from bank accounts than from any other field of investment. (2) Bank accounts are very liquid—that is to say, we can quickly get our money at any time. Other forms of investment may be 'permanent' investments. Many of them are so permanent that they cannot be liquidated when desired. (3) Bank accounts offer a good opportunity for speculative profit. This may seem a strange statement but let us examine it.

The real opportunities to make money are through chances that come to take partnerships, to make special purchases or to do other things, which, if undertaken, often bring success. One never can tell when these opportunities will come but they do come to each of us two or three times in the course of our lives. They almost always require a certain amount of capital. Perhaps the new position offered means working for less than a living wage for a while. Perhaps it means taking a year or more for travel or study. The man with a bank account can finance the venture but the man without a bank account cannot. Therefore, I say that a bank account offers an opportunity for speculative profit because it puts one in a position to make a big profit when the opportunity comes.

"I especially emphasize the importance of bank accounts at the present time because many people have not increased their bank accounts materially since the low prices of ten years ago. For a great many years prices ran along a certain level, and people got into the habit of carrying about so much in their savings account and a certain amount in their checking account. All business men, from the large manufacturers to the humblest retailers, felt that a bank account of a certain size was about what he should carry and he has held the same idea up to the present time. Yet, during the past ten years, prices have increased from fifty to a hundred or more per cent, according to the commodity considered. Taking into consideration all factors entering into the cost of living, the dollar of ten years ago is worth only about sixty cents today. As prices increase we should increase our bank accounts to correspond. We take out increased insurance today on a building which was built ten years ago even though it was then insured for all it cost. The fact is that the cost of building has gone up and if we had a fire we would have to rebuild at much higher prices. Therefore, we insure not on the basis of the cost of ten years ago but on the basis of replacement as of today. It seems to me that we should follow the same principle regarding our bank accounts. This is one reason why the Babson chart has again so radically declined, standing today at ten per cent below normal compared with nine per cent above normal in February. Just as things got better around the first of the year, people again got careless, bank deposits fell off and the safety valve began to let off steam. Increased bank balances would help start business up toward normal again."

HOUSEWIVES TO UNITE TO BETTER "HIRED GIRLS" LOT

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—By The Associated Press.—Two hundred Minneapolis housewives, discouraged in their long struggle against a shortage of maids in the city, announced they will establish a domestic improvement association to remove the stigma attached to domestic work and to attract a higher type of girl to the service.

The association, believed to be the first of its kind in the United States, will be organized formally at a meeting to be held on Tuesday.

The association plans the following inducements for the girls:

Better living conditions and proper training.

Bonuses to maids whose work is satisfactory.

Regulation of work in the homes.

Courses in cooking, serving and general housework.

METEOR BELIEVED TO HAVE

The Easiest Way
To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

more deep and about three feet in circumference was torn in the pavement.

Augustus Wilson, whose home is on Lathrop avenue, said that the peculiar light flared up in his window and a ball of flame flashed toward the earth. It struck the ground with terrific impact, throwing one woman out of bed. About the edge of the hole torn in the pavement was a substance like lead. According to Wilson, a black vapor arose from the point where the exposed meteor struck.

Your Chevrolet engine is of valve-in-head construction and designed for high compression pressures of approximately 87 pounds.

The lubricating system is of the splash circulating type. The gear type oil pump is in an exposed position directly in back of the radiator, and is considerably above the level of the oil in the reservoir. There are long lengths of exposed oil piping on both the suction and discharge sides of the pump.

All engine parts except the centre crank-shaft bearing are lubricated by an oil mist caused by the dipping of the connecting rod splashers in the oil troughs provided under each cylinder. Oil is forced under pressure to the centre crank-shaft bearing.

Carbon deposits in this engine, because of the high compression pressures and combustion chamber construction, are particularly objectionable. Correct lubrication is essential to the maintenance of high efficiency. Gargyle Mobiloil Arctic will leave a minimum of carbon deposits, and is of the correct body and character to provide adequate engine lubrication under all operating conditions.

The use of Gargyle Mobiloil Arctic both summer and winter will assure correct engine lubrication and lead to the satisfactory performance you have a right to expect of your Chevrolet.

Give to the Home

IN yesterday's issue of the Tribune appeared a brief account of the conditions confronting the Home for the Friendless, an institution which probably needs no commendation to citizens of La Crosse. It is the oldest and the only existing purely local charity in the city. For years it has been conducted as a labor of love by a small group of devoted women, and it has often been said that larger institutions would find much to emulate in the careful economy with which its modest funds are administered. We know of no institution in the state where more is done by every dollar subscribed. Its results, the slightest investigation will show, are far beyond the average of efficiency for charitable undertakings, and yet there is no "poor house" atmosphere about it. Somehow the Home for the Friendless has been able to keep the emphasis in its work upon the home part of its name.

That this splendid enterprise should face the grim prospect of eating up its slender capital until its work shall stop for lack of funds is unthinkable. Were it valued at its true worth in La Crosse it would have yearly a sum beyond its running expenses to place in its endowment funds, rather than be drawing upon them to keep going.

Give to the Home for the Friendless. If you gave last year, increase your subscription, and if you have not given before, do so this year. There are many avenues through which generosity may be made effective, but none where the gifts of La Crosse people will be of more service to the unfortunate of La Crosse.

Shanty Days

BOYS don't seem to be building shanties as much as they used to. And they're missing a lot, for the boyhood shanty looms as one of the most delightful spots in the memory of the man whose hair is white or beginning to turn gray above the ears.

The old-time shanty back yonder was our first big expression of the creative instinct. It taught us to build with our hands. It necessitated teamwork that instilled into us a sense of business organization. The community spirit was developed during the erection of the shanty and its management after completion.

The shanty was an expression of a certain period of American life. It dated from pioneer days when lads built small huts out of poles, in imitation of their fathers' log cabins.

Lumber is too scarce and expensive now. An outlay of at least $50 would be necessary to put up a shanty that the lads of 20 or more years ago would have considered a respectable piece of work.

The decided changes that are taking place in our civilization are most strikingly illustrated in the changed pastimes of youth. The shanty is not the only institution that is passing. That charming boyhood highway, the alley, is passing gradually, a victim of congestion and high real estate values. And the alley, where it still survives in the modern city, usually is only a ghastly ghost of the old-time alleys overgrown with weeds, canyoned by high board fences and littered with old iron and bones for the junkman.

The movie serial has taken the place of Nick Carter, and machine-made cigars have displaced grapevine leaves and "Indian cigars." The old order changes. Youth concentrates on radio. It forecasts a coming generation of highly developed scientific powers, but at a fearful loss in boyhood enjoyments and pastimes.

Elusive Joy

SAVAGES on South Sea islands get more satisfaction and happiness out of life than we do with our incessant pursuit of the dollar. Dean Charles R. Brown of Yale Divinity School, makes this comment. It is open to argument. But happiness certainly requires more than material possessions. For instance, the early American pioneer who farmed his 10-acre clearing in the forest undoubtedly was happier than the modern farmer with his fields stretching as far as he can see.

The happiest people seem to be the ones with simple wants. It doesn't take much to satisfy them. That's why there's something appealing, to all of us, in the home simply and comfortably furnished, with a touch of luxury here and there. On the same principle that the young woman who can afford only one diamond gets more real joy from her one diamond than the rich woman with diamonds galore.

Our civilization is machine-made. We've been passing through a period of Big Production Mania. As if the way to happiness were to heap our country to overflowing with autos, garments, furniture, etc. The result: All dressed up and no place to go. Material things cease to be tools of happiness shortly after our actual wants are fully supplied. We'd rather be a boy living in a log cabin with a radio than a prince in a palace.

Wireless

FIVE hundred years from now, man will do most of his work by wireless, predicts Professor David A. Low, the English scientist. He paints a dismal picture of man enslaved by radio. It's more probable that radio will have become obsolete and forgotten by the year 2423. Something greater will take its place, of a nature as yet beyond the imagination. Very few inventions have a life of 500 years. The few include the knife, fork, spoon, ax, shovel and mason's trowel.

Over the Wire

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

Tommy Pearson was in a quandary as to how he was to wake himself every morning sharp at 7 o'clock. He had lost two positions already by not being in his office on time, and he liked the one he now had, and wanted to keep it. Tommy was rich enough to indulge in all the stupid hobbies of the idle wealthy if he chose, but he preferred to work.

His family had all gone to their summer home at Southampton with the entire staff of servants and Tommy remained alone in the big town house content save for that one annoying lack—his inability to wake at a regular early hour. Tommy realized that his subconscious was his will power or his power of suggestion should come to his rescue, but they didn't, and he realized that an alarm clock would only continue to ring at itself.

A bright idea then flitted through Tommy's fertile brain and upon the idea he worked swiftly. Consequently the following morning among the personal columns there was a short message.

Will some one please ring my telephone until I answer it? Object, getting me up and on my feet at 7 o'clock every morning. Just before seven, please. Thank you. Tam, Riverside 1-1-1.

Next morning at three minutes to seven Mary Dalton went to her telephone, called up Riverside 1-1-1, waited until a masculine voice called cheerily "Hello," then hung up the receiver. After that she sat down to her dainty breakfast and again read the personal column which had prompted her telephone call.

She smiled as she reflected that each morning she would begin her day with a small good deed. Mary was a Scout and the doing of one good deed a day at least was one of their praiseworthy teachings.

Tom was delighted at the swift result of his personal and spent a moment or two at the telephone trying to thank the unknown benefactor, but hearing the receiver hung up at the other end he hurried off to his cold plunge wishing however that he might have been permitted to thank the fellow, whoever he was.

Each morning his telephone rang and as regularly Tom jumped up, answered and tried to get a word with his unknown waker, but so far no word had reached him. Tom almost came to the conclusion that it was some one of his friends trying to keep his curiosity quickened. He spent little time, however, in vain conjecture, since getting up and to the office was his main idea, and not the personality of the one who was responsible for that thingy arriving in due time.

But toward the end of the second week Tom realized it was high time to find out who was behind the thing. He called up and to the office was his main idea, and not the personality of the one who was responsible for that thingy arriving in due time.

Her brother, Donald, visiting Mary over the weekend, was agreeable to most things she suggested, since he knew her to be quite capable of taking care of herself under most conditions. Consequently it was his voice that answered the somewhat annoyed Tom when he again demanded his right to treat to dinner and theatre.

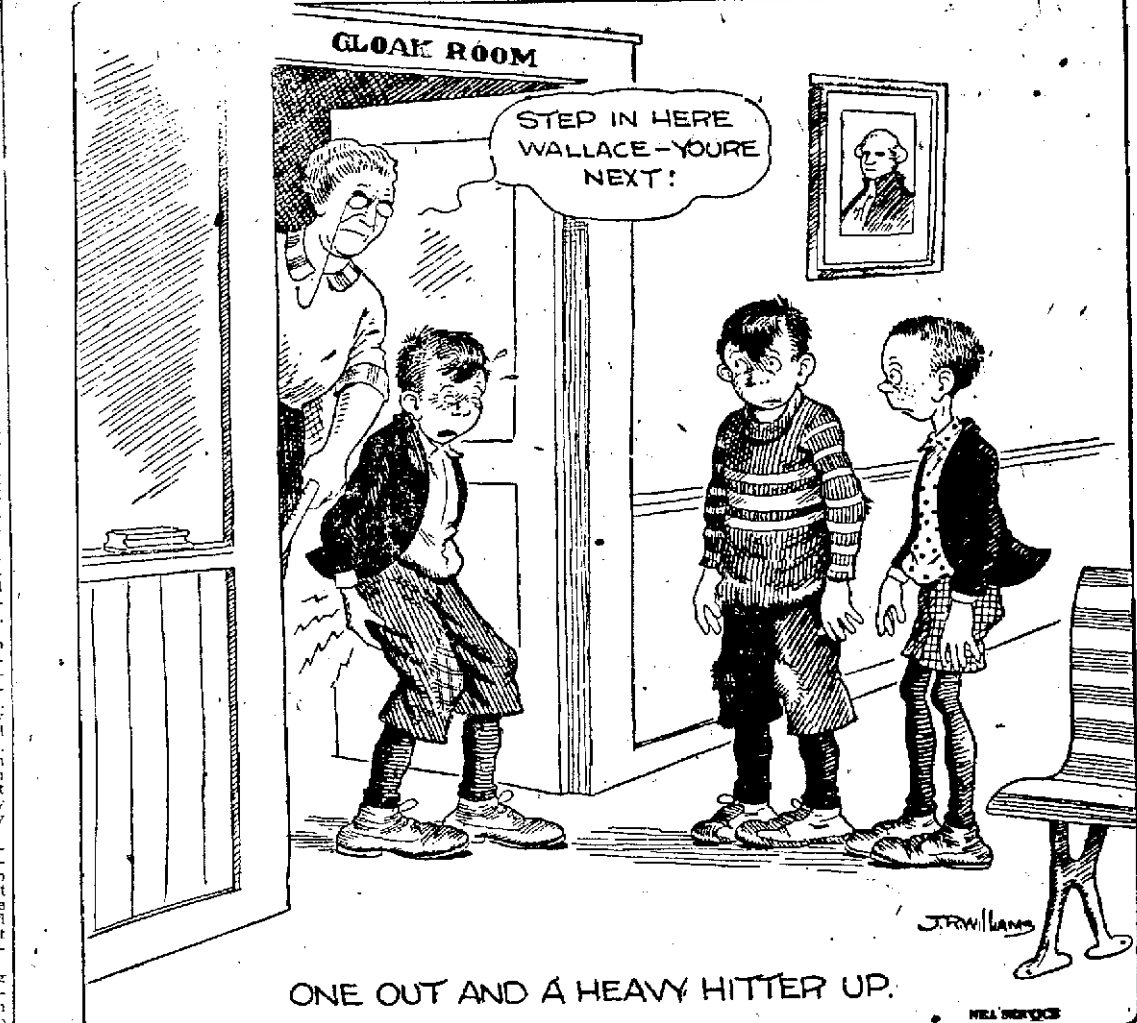

"I am booked up this week, but next Friday will suit if you are free. I'm not keen on the theatre in hot weather, but if you insist and will bring the bell marked Dalton at 123 West Fourth street at about 6:30 Friday, I'll be down and we can have a dinner together."

Mary smiled as he hung up the receiver. It was going to be somewhat of a task and Donald had promised to be with her just to appraise the stranger.

When the Friday evening arrived a call from her brother informed Mary that he was detained and that she must just make the best of the situation.

Tom, arriving in 13R promptly at half past 8, rang the bell marked Dalton and waited in the small hall for the chap who had been so regular in getting him out of his bed for the past three weeks.

Tom suddenly realized that waiting for strange young men was a most pleasant pastime, for coming down the stairs was a lovely young girl with a flush of cheeks in her cheeks and a pair of wonderfully expressive eyes. These same eyes glanced shyly at Tom as the girl herself drew nearer and much to Tom's delighted surprise, she made straight for him.

"I am the waker up—over the telephone," she said with a ready smile. "My brother, Donald, was coming tonight, but has been detained. Perhaps I should not go to dinner with you."

"Oh, please," exclaimed Tom, in dismay. "Having seen you now and knowing what I would be missing in not having you opposite me at the table, I couldn't eat a bite, he gazed pleadingly at her and Mary laughed softly.

"I could not allow you to starve," she said, and with a bound Tom was out of his bed.

"Such good fortune is seldom given to mortal man," he thought as the taxi drew up at the curb and he carefully helped his lovely waker up into it. "Can we go way up Riverside and have dinner?"

"Oh that is so dreadfully far to go in a taxi," murmured Mary.

Tom promptly gave the driver his orders. Then he was anticipating the drive back and he knew he would tell the driver to go as slowly as his engine permitted.

"I have more money than sense," laughed Tom, "and am only too glad to have some one nice to spend it on. You will come every Friday with me, won't you? You know it is a big task, calling me up every morning so regularly."

"It is nothing at all," said Mary. "I am up anyway and am only too glad to do any little thing to help people in this world."

"I need help very much," Tom informed her. "All my friends have dropped me because I insist on working like other men and I'm lonesome for some one—just like you. I don't think you'd call me a silly fool just because I can't idle day in and day out."

Mary looked straight into Tom's eyes and saw therein that which made her glad. "No," she said, quite frankly if a trifle tremulously. "I am not the kind of person who makes fun of a real man when I meet him."

"I shall bless my inability to wake up early—until the end of my days," thought Tom, but he was far too wise to say so during that first glorious meeting.

However when he did tell her all about it Mary, too, felt that some frailties in the human make-up certainly lead to paths that are very wonderful. (Copyright, 1923, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate).

MY HAIR Grows finer, thicker every year

By Edna Wallace Hopper

At my ripe age, my hair is such as any girl might envy. Heavy and luxuriant, fine and clean. I have never had gray hair, never falling hair, never a touch of dandruff. And every year, despite my age, it grows more beautiful.

It is my greatest glory, adored by all who see it. Yet I have stood in the limelight for 32 years as a musical comedy star.

Beautiful at 57

I owe this to my mother. She said, "Science knows some way to beautify the hair. Let us find it." So we searched the world until we found the best that science offered.

Mother died at 57 with hair like mine today. Never a hair turned gray. I used what she used and with like results. Scores of my friends have done likewise, and all have this beautiful hair. So I am convinced that millions can enjoy these benefits, and I am going to help them do it.

Hair is Stiffed

Experts tell me that hair health depends on a healthy scalp. An oil called Sebura accumulates there, grows hard and clogs the pores. Dandruff attacks the scalp. Then the stiffed hair roots deteriorate or perish.

The pigment which gives hair its color becomes stiffed in a like way. Then some hair falls out, some loses its color, all ceases to thrive. Just as flowers wither and perish when stifled by weeds.

So those scientists in France gave me the formula I use. It combats the dandruff, softens hardened oil, stimulates the hair roots, fertilizes the scalp. They told me it would multiply the beauty of my hair, and it certainly has done so.

With an Eye-dropper

I call this formula my Hair Youth. I apply it with an eye-dropper once a day—just enough to dampen the scalp. It takes but a moment, and it doesn't muss the hair.

Now I offer this formula to all. I hope and believe it will bring to millions what it brought to me. I have never met anyone who has found a hair help to compare.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth sells everywhere at 50c and $1, with eye-dropper. Also my Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. Also my Youth Cream—my fruity cold cream. Also my White You Clay. My Beauty Book comes with each.

I hope that all who want lovely hair will see what my Hair Youth does. If the first bottle fails to please you, your dealer will return the price. Edna Wallace Hopper, business address, Waukesha, Wis. Sold by Hoeschler Bros., La Crosse, and leading toilet counters everywhere.

COOLIDGE MESSAGE OPENS CONVENTION OF MINE CONGRESS

President Urges Increased Output Consistent With Safety to Workers

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—Urging mining men of the United States to greater production consistent with conservation of human life and safety, in a message read tonight before the opening session of the twenty-sixth annual convention of the American Mining Congress, President Calvin Coolidge expressed his gratification at the magnitude attained by the mining industry in the United States and the favorable place which American mining holds with reference to the mineral production of the rest of the world.

The preeminent position of the United States among the metal and mineral products is, I suspect, the message declared, "not fully appreciated outside the mining enterprises. Upon looking into the matter, I was astonished to find that in 1924 out of a list of 25 metals and minerals, the United States is the world's foremost producer. Moreover this list of fifteen includes coal, iron, copper, petroleum, zinc, lead, phosphate, rock and sulphur, while we stand second in gold and silver.

"The immensity of our mine resources necessarily imposes a duty in behalf of those who engage in the arduous work of extracting metals and minerals from the earth. It should be our effort to lead in producing these with the minimum hazard to life. Mining is unavoidably an industry marked by numerous occupational hazards. We must not pay an unnecessary high cost in life and limb for mine products."

The president, in his message, said the government has worked many years to determine the causes of mine accidents and in solving the problems of preventing them. It has, he said, a great fund of information on the subject which is at all times to be had for the asking.

"Safety," the message concluded, "is a common meeting ground on which all who are engaged in mining can gather with a single purpose of saving life. Mine workers, mine owners and operators, and state and federal officers should all work together in the fullest cooperation."

LITTLE CHANCE FOR SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE IS BELIEF IN POLITICAL CIRCLES

MADISON, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—A special session of the Wisconsin legislature, looked for as an assured event at the time of adjournment of the regular session last July, now appears only as a very remote possibility. None of those who early in the summer were confident of a gathering of legislators this fall now expect a special meeting.

Problems raised by inadequate highway funds to meet federal aid next year, due to veto of the gasoline tax bill, and by failure of the legislature to grant appropriations to the university and normal schools, will be met by some emergency means other than a special session, well-informed friends of the governor believe. They say that the only possibility of a special session is for a meeting next spring to consider an issue which they believe will be raised by Governor Blaine over railroad taxation.

It is recalled by these politicians that the governor, without warning, called a special session of the legislature in 1922 to bring out the secrecy clause issue that figured prominently in the next political campaign. They say that consideration is being given the advisability of a special meeting of the legislature to be held next spring to consider the question of railroad valuation and taxation by the tax commission. Possibilities of a political issue are seen in the discussion.

Many politicians express the opinion that the chief deterrent to a special session will be the likelihood of trouble that may develop over demand for a legislative investigation of conditions in the state government, should the houses convene. They say that political fireworks might be looked for in the state with a gathering of the legislature.

The university and normal schools are running as usual, despite the fact that they are operating under their 1921 appropriation. Officials expect that the emergency board will be able to take care of any needs without a meeting of the legislature.

The highway problem is said by A. R. Hirst, chief highway engineer to be much more serious, because of the extensive curtailment of road building activity that will be necessitated next year with a shortage of funds. He has spoken to Governor Blaine concerning the necessity for a special session.

The time has come, however, when most legislators expected they would be back in Madison, and few officials are thinking about a legislative meeting. This is taken as positive assurance that there will be no gathering this winter, and probably none next spring unless it be to consider a political issue.

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

VEGETABLE SALADS

Vegetable salads are quite appropriate for the fall. Raw vegetables are used in a jellied salad or merely shredded and used in combination with a simple French dressing.

Combination Salad

Two cups minced cabbage, 1/2 cup minced celery, 1/2 cup minced carrots, 2 sweet green peppers, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cup hot vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons oil.

Put vegetables in a mixing bowl. Season with salt, pepper and sugar and pour over vinegar brought to the boiling point. Let stand until cool and stir in oil. Serve with or without lettuce.

Carrot Salad

One cup grated carrot, 1/2 lemon, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 cup whipping cream, paprika, lettuce.

Grate carrot and lemon and squeeze out juice. Add salt, sugar, grated carrot and juice to whipped cream. Whip cream until stiff and fold in carrot mixture. Serve on lettuce and sprinkle with paprika.

Molded Salad

Two tablespoons granulated gelatin, 1 cup shredded cabbage, 1 cup diced sour apples, 1/2 cup diced celery, 1/2 cup nut meats, 1 tablespoon sugar, 6 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-3 cup cold water, 2 cups boiling water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, paprika, lettuce, mayonnaise.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add boiling water and stir until dissolved. Let stand until beginning to jelly. Add lemon juice. Mix cabbage, apples and celery with sugar, salt and pepper. Add nuts and stir well. Let stand on ice to chill and become firm. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise and a dash of paprika.

Golden Salad

One cup thinly sliced carrots, 1 cup grated apple, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 egg white, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup whipped cream, 2 tablespoons granulated gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, 1 cup boiling water, lettuce, mayonnaise.

Line a bowl or mold with slices of tender carrots. Pour in a little gelatin softened in the cold water and dissolve in boiling water. Put a smaller bowl inside the large one and let stand until the jelly is firm. Pour boiling water in the bowl and it will slip out of the jelly without disturbing the form. Peel the white of egg until stiff and dry with sugar and salt. Fold in grated apple. Add lemon juice to remaining gelatin. When gelatin begins to set fold in egg mixture and whipped cream. Turn into carrot mold and put on ice to chill and become firm. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

ANNIVERSARY PARTY AT SALZER CHURCH HONORS 3 PASTORS

In compliment to the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of Rev. J. L. Ponzio to the ministry, Rev. B. C. Brandenburg, former superintendent of this district, and Rev. John Sasse, a retired minister, the members of the Salzer Memorial church entertained Monday evening at the church parlors at a delightful reception.

The Rev. Mr. Ponzio rounded out his twenty-fifth year of ministerial service on Sunday, more than half of this time being spent in ministrations at the Salzer church, having just entered upon his fourteenth year. The Rev. Mr. Brandenburg is a former pastor of the North Side German Methodist church. In addition to all this the Rev. Mr. Brandenburg announced that it was the 25th anniversary of their wedding day and the Rev. Mr. Sasse also announced that he had just passed another birthday.

A most enjoyable informal program, including talks by Messrs. O. W. Muenster, superintendent of the Sunday school; Rudolph Schlabsch, president of the Epworth League; and E. J. Berner, chairman of the official board, was given. Musical numbers by Prof. James R. Kerr, leader of the choir, E. Thiel, and a mixed quartette were interspersed.

Three little children, representative of the primary department, Jane Zeratzky, Ralph Hottman and Darwin Hoffschild, presented baskets of fruit, gaily trimmed with flowers, to the honor guests. Speeches were made by the pastors, expressive of thanks, giving interesting experiences of pioneer days, referring to their untiring labors as joyful work with no complaint of the hardships and a determination of continuing in the noble cause. One of the interesting announcements made by the Rev. Mr. Ponzio was that during the twenty-five years of his work he had taken into the membership of the church over one thousand members.

After the program the Ladies' Aid society served refreshments.

WILLIAM McKINLEY Relief Corps will hold its regular meeting at the lodge rooms in the court house Wednesday evening. As initiation will be held it is hoped that there will be a good attendance.

Apartment in Washington Selected by Mrs. Harding For Her Home This Winter

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The lure of Washington has proved too much for Mrs. Florence Kling Harding. Washington is a vampire city. Like many others who have once tasted of the joys of life in this beautiful capital Mrs. Harding has listened to the call.

Homefolks look sorrowfully upon those who are caught in the coils of the siren. But if Marion is disconsolate it is only suffering the pangs of other small towns which have proudly sent representatives here only to have them ungratefully turn their backs upon them, when the terms of office have ended.

Washington, the vampire, thus feeds upon the best blood of the country and a goodly proportion of her population is composed of former office holders and their families.

Strangely enough, the apartment which Mrs. Harding has selected to live in this winter directly overlooks the home of Woodrow Wilson, another victim of the capitol's fascination.

Life now in Washington for the widow of Warren Harding and the broken man, Woodrow Wilson, must mean similar things. Both can look back upon the zenith of joy and success that they reached, and to the nadir of despair and frustration they have plunged in this fateful city. Unable to free themselves, they remain here as mere onlookers of the drama being played by their successors.

From the window of one of the bedrooms of the Harding apartment one looks down into the small garden back of the Wilson home. An effort has been made to screen the garden from view by growing tall poplars and cedars around the edge. This has been successful so far as the other surrounding apartments and houses are concerned, but Mrs. Harding's room looks over the trees. Daily Mr. Wilson is helped on the little balcony with an iron railing which overlooks his garden and he can plainly be seen from the Harding windows.

Hurried remodeling is taking place in the eleven rooms and three baths apartments. Mrs. Harding awaits the finishing at White Oaks Farm, near Marion, where she is the guest of the Sawyers. It is a really magnificent apartment, near Sheridan circle, the district where discriminating millionaires have built palatial residences.

Wendell Mansions is the name of this exclusive apartment and the address is 2339 Massachusetts avenue. It is a triangular shaped building, at the intersection of two streets with the avenue. The angle is rounded off. Conforming with this triangular shape, the drawing room, music room and dining room open out from the entrance hall into a huge fan-shape.

Situated on high ground the apartment overlooks most of the capital. The tall shaft of the Washington monument dominates the gleaming white marble buildings, with the placid Potomac and the pencil hills of Virginia in the background. The view itself to one with an artistic eye, would be worth the $350 monthly which Mrs. Harding will pay the landlord.

This is, indeed, a modest sum, considering the location of the apartment and its size. A similar apartment in New York probably would rent for thousands of dollars a month. The rooms are huge and well adapted for entertaining.

This fact brings in speculation as to whether Mrs. Harding will have much company this winter. Of course entertaining must be of an informal nature for Mrs. Harding will be in mourning. But the rooms are being elaborately remodeled and brand new fixtures are being installed. Mrs. Harding has betrayed a preference for the cool grays and blues for the walls of the apartment that suit her so well in her gowns. There are fireplaces in the drawing room and dining room and in several of the bed rooms. Five bedrooms there are and Washington is wondering who Mrs. Harding plans to have live with her, if anybody.

Mrs. Harding has a gift for entertaining people in her own home, and the prediction is that her apartment will be the mecca for society and may outshine socially even the White house itself. Mrs. Harding's large and intimate acquaintance with public men and her fair for politics will enable her to conduct a political salon of note, rivaling those of Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Mrs. Medill McCormick and Mrs. Bonien Harriman.

Four of the city merchants have devoted space in their show windows this week to the Y. W. C. A. membership drive. The "Y" of the Y. W. C. Girl Reserve uniforms, the attractive blue and white, are on display with a list of honors, insignia and badges of office of the Girl Reserves. The "W" of the Employed Girls division have a poster in Pruess's window telling about their Tuesday evening sewing club. Hope chests are to be filled and there will be classes in musical appreciation, courtesy, like classes, story telling and other interesting things.

The "C" of the comradeship of the churches, is most attractively depicted in Hebbard's Main street window, is a model church designed by Miss Rose Knudsen. A golden path leading up to the church door tells you to "follow in the gleam."

The "A" of the associating together, which is carried out by the gymnasium division of the "Y" is represented by a basket ball girl in Barron's window. Gym classes of all kinds are open to the "Y" girls. Exercise for beauty and for health.

The "Y" asks that people come up to the club rooms and pay their dues without waiting to be solicited. All this year's memberships are due now.

WORKERS NAMED TO CONDUCT DRIVE TO AID THE BLIND

All Arrangements for Campaign Completed at Meeting Held on Monday

LEE MOTL IS CHAIRMAN OF GENERAL COMMITTEE

Money Raised to Help Blind Become Self Supporting

At a meeting of all local clubs and organizations at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday final plans were completed for the launching of a campaign for funds for the erection of the workshop and trade school for the adult blind of this state. The movement was unanimously endorsed and Lee Motl of the Mott Studio, was elected chairman and will take complete charge of the campaign.

The Kiwanis, Rotary, Elks and Lions clubs, the Knights of Columbus and Community Council had representatives at the meeting. A meeting of the workers will be held at five o'clock this afternoon.

Many ask whether there is any such institution in this state. There is a school for the juvenile blind at Janesville, which takes care of the children of the blind. The adult blind of this state, however, has no such institution.

"UP THE LADDER" MAY BE REPEATED AT THE LA CROSSE

The La Crosse Theater management has announced that the company playing "Up the Ladder" here last Sunday night may be returned to La Crosse for a second engagement. So enthusiastic has been the report circulated of the first showing that the theater management will endeavor to secure a return engagement.

"Up the Ladder" is one of the cleverest of real American comedies seen here in years. The piece unfolds in an unusually interesting tale in a manner which contains the elements of light comedy, and serious thoughtfulness. It has to do with the joys and sorrows of a young American couple in their upward journey on the ladder of business and social life. Their adventures on the way, their advances and setbacks, all work in to make the play unusually interesting and entertaining.

Governor Issues Paper

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. — By The Associated Press. — The Record, Governor J. C. Walton's newspaper to "tell the people the truth" appeared on the streets Tuesday. The first edition is four pages and of regular size. It contains statements issued by the executive to the press and liberal accounts of testimony taken by military courts in Oklahoma City, and Tulsa.

Across the top of the first page is spread in heavy type the question: "Are you for the American republic or the invisible empire?"

The four pages are devoted exclusively to news, no advertising appearing. The paper contains only matter that has been previously made public by the executive and which he alleged has been suppressed or distorted by local newspapers.

Admiral Black, executive councillor, is named as editor.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. — By The Associated Press. — Continuing for two weeks of the trial of N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma, charged with rioting, was granted in justice court Tuesday at the request of S. P. Freeling, former state attorney general, counsel for Jewett. Freeling told the court it would be impossible for him to be present next week, when the county attorney's office wished to try the case.

is in readiness for the work to proceed. The next project calls for a connecting link between State Trunk 32 and State Trunk 21, or the north Sparta road.

La Crosse Real Gateway

"The fifth project is a connecting link between West Salem and Holmen or State Highways 21 and 11. The sixth project would call for moving State Trunk No. 11 over toward the west, serving Trempealeau better and eliminating the hills and twists in the road now encountered on Decorah Prairie. Involved in this project is the famous McGilvray road. I have never been in favor of this road and in the past few years this road has been considerably in the limelight.

However, there is one thing I want you gentlemen to understand and that is that La Crosse is the gateway to the west. It is the largest city in western Wisconsin. In order to reach the great northwest, the Dakotas, Yellowstone National Park and the far northwest business tourists must pass through La Crosse. No one will dispute this assertion. That is why I say La Crosse is entitled to special consideration, because of its geographical location."

Joseph Arenz said that beside the river road to the south La Crosse needed an all-weather road to the east and that with the river road built it would be possible to have a road that could be used all year round, that

MORE TREASURES SOLD

LONDON. — By the Associated Press. — The vast collections of jewels and art treasures of the Romanoff family gradually are finding their way to the many auction rooms of London and Paris. They have come in such abundance during the last two years that they cease to incite curiosity or to bring more than the normal price for such articles. Recently the most remarkable collection of 42 old French snuff boxes in existence, once the property of the Romanoff family, was sold in London for about $50,000, considered a low price. One of the specimens, a gold oval Louis XV box, beautifully chased, with a miniature of Frederick II in the lid and a small watch in the bottom, said to have been presented to Voltaire by Frederick II, brought $5,000.

Radio loud-speakers are erected on posts along Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, and from them concerts are broadcasted for the benefit of the listening thousands.

COOLIDGE CABINET DISCUSSES PLIGHT OF WHEAT FARMERS

Reduced Freight Rates on Wheat for Export and Higher Tariff Under Consideration

WASHINGTON. — Reduction of freight rates on wheat and flour destined for export and increase of the present tariff on wheat, were considered by President Coolidge and his cabinet Tuesday as possible remedies for the ills of the wheat farmers of the northwest.

The discussion which resulted in no definite decisions followed presentation by Secretary Wallace of a report in the world wheat situation, prepared at the direction of Mr. Coolidge. Both plans in the opinion of the president are worthy of serious consideration, and as neither require action by congress, it was believed that the president has no wise changed his mind against calling congress in special session.

ABANDON HOPE FOR MISSING FRUIT BOAT

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — A cloth cap believed to belong to a member of the crew of the ill-fated fruit boat Forelle, lost in a storm on Lake Michigan Thursday, has been picked up on the beach near Kenosha and was later identified by Mrs. Walter Rosenstock as that belonging to her husband, who was a member of the crew.

The find confirms the belief that the boat sunk with all hands off Kenosha. Virtually all hope has been abandoned as to the survival of Captain Cornelius William Tamms and crew.

JUNIORS GETTING ENTRIES IN SHAPE FOR CATTLE SHOW

Youngsters of State Grooming Baby Bees for Exposition at Madison

MADISON, Wis.—Junior showmen in the state are grooming their baby bees and pointing them toward the Junior Livestock exposition which is slated for October 24 to 28, at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture.

The exposition this year is attracting a larger entry list than ever before, especially in the baby beef herd class consisting of three animals. Last year's show champion, Everett Jones of Iowa county, will be back again this year and attempt to repeat his performance of last year with his herd of baby Shorthorns. Backing him with other Shorthorn herds will be Robert and James Hogan, Dane county; Rubeen Jones of Iowa county; Constance Carmody, Marion and Helen Metcalf, all of Grant county.

Hereford enthusiasts will be pleased to see a large showing of "white faces" in the show ring. The herds which will uphold Hereford honors are those of Archie Templeton, Rock county; Kenneth Stevenson, Dane county; L. I. Jewell and Wayne Watkins, both of Iowa county; Joseph Nowalk, Dane county; Ernest Roth, Juneau county and George Day of Iowa county.

Only one Aberdeen-Angus herd has been entered to date and it will fall to Theo. Pribeaux of Iowa county to compete single-handed against the other leading beef breeds for premier honors. In all 15 herds have been entered for the event as compared to 10 last year. Entries in all other departments are arriving in every mail, swelling the entry far beyond last year's figure.

An unusually long prize list is attracting youthful exhibitors and at the present time four counties, Dane, Grant, Rock and Iowa, are running a close race for the Wisconsin Farmer cash prize for the county with the largest number of beef entries. Lively competition is looked for in the race for the Wisconsin Agriculturist's gold watch which goes to the winner in the baby beef herd class.

EKERN CORRECTS MISUNDERSTANDING IN MURDER PROBE

STURGEON GENERAL RAY, Wis.—The attorney general's department is "very desirous" of co-operating with district attorneys' offices in obtaining the service of experts to investigate murder cases, but cannot supply assistant attorneys general to aid in the prosecution of these cases, Attorney General Herman L. Eker announced today. His statement was made in reply to assertions that his department refused to aid in the investigation of the murder case at Stevens Point.

"The attorney general's office is very desirous of operating with the courts in obtaining the service of experts such as Dr. Bunting and Major W. F. Lorenz, for the immediate investigation of cases of this kind," Mr. Eker said. "This office has urged that such assistance promptly be secured."

"The misunderstanding in the Stevens Point case arose from the fact that it is the policy of the office not to send an assistant attorney general to assist in the prosecution of criminal cases because the force is wholly inadequate for doing that as a general policy and for the further reason that the statute authorizes the circuit court to appoint a local assistant to the district attorney."

"MEDEA" STANDS OUT AS ANGLIN'S MOST REMARKABLE ROLE

Backed by a season in New York, six months in Chicago and two Trans-Continental tours, Margaret Anglin will be seen at the La Crosse Theatre for one performance next Thursday in "The Woman in Bronze" by Paul Kester, which has proved perhaps the greatest success of her entire career. The announcement of the appearance of Miss Anglin in any city is always one of unusual interest for she holds a unique and enviable position in the theatrical profession. Probably no other actress has played the diversity of roles which she has done, and no one has been as signally successful in all types of roles as has Miss Anglin. She has had the unusual honor of having played to the largest audience ever assembled in the U. S. to witness a dramatic performance, when on August 21, 1917, she played "Medea" at the Greek Theatre, in Berkeley, California. Later on she exceeded her own record in St. Louis at the Municipal Theatre when she presented "As You Like It" before 27,000 people. Incidentally, it is interesting to know that two members of the cast of "The Woman in Bronze" appeared with Miss Anglin on that memorable occasion, namely Henry Mowbray, and Harry Barfoot, the latter having played with Miss Anglin for the past 12 years, and Mr. Mowbray for nine years.

Mother love, father love, the love of fair play, the love of money, the love of position—all these phases of the grand passion enter into William S. Hart's newest Paramount picture, "The Whistle," which will be the feature at the Casino theatre today. Mr. Hart appears as Robert Evans, a factory worker and has a wonderfully strong supporting cast. Myrtle Steadman, always a favorite, has the leading feminine role—virtually the only woman's part in the picture. It is a rugged story, one dealing with human souls and the hearts of men and women making and breaking.

An all-star picture adapted from Maxine Elliott's great Broadway success and presenting an unusual cast comes to the screen of the Majestic theatre next Wednesday. It is the Universal production, "Trimmed in Scarlet."
The story is of a mother who left home. The world called her "bad." Her only child, believing her good, refused to credit the rumors which came to her ears. This perfect faith, had its reward. The story tells what the reward was, and in the telling it delivers a broadside of caustic criticism on the figures of the world's gossips.

CONSERVATIVES TO FIGHT FOR BADGER G. O. P. DELEGATION

Faction Will Put Full Slate of Candidates Into Field to Oppose La Follette Group

TWO ADDITIONAL DELEGATES ARE ALLOTTED TO BADGER STATE

Doubt Expressed as to Whether Action Would be Legal

MADISON, Wis.—Conservative republicans in Wisconsin have determined to make an organized fight for the state delegation to the national republican convention for nomination of President, and will have a full slate of candidates in opposition to the La Follette progressive faction. It is learned here on good authority.

There is discussion of the advisability of a state-wide conference, to be held probably in December, to decide upon conservative candidates. Senator La Follette is reported to have told some of his followers that upon his return from Europe a conference would be held to select the progressive candidates.

Urge Organization

The conservatives are at present considering organization for the delegate contests. Senator I. L. Lenroot, during the course of his speaking tour through Wisconsin, is reported to be encouraging local representatives of the faction to become active in preparation for the coming contest.

Much interest is being shown among politicians here in the choice of delegate candidates by the conservatives. They wonder whether Senator Lenroot and former Governor E. L. Phillips will both be candidates for delegates at large on the conservative ticket. These two were accepted as the leaders of the faction.

The progressive leaders here say that it is likely that Governor Blaine will be one candidate for delegates at large on the La Follette slate, with William T. Egan, editor of the Madison Capital Times as another representative on the slate.

Get Two More Delegates

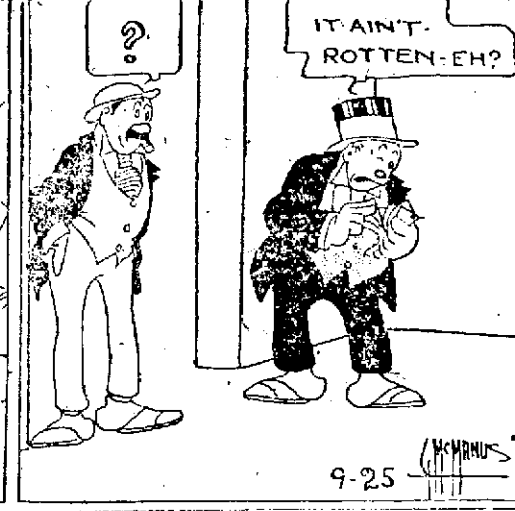

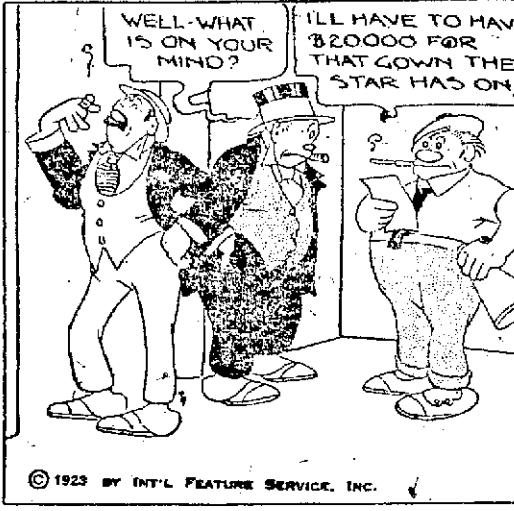

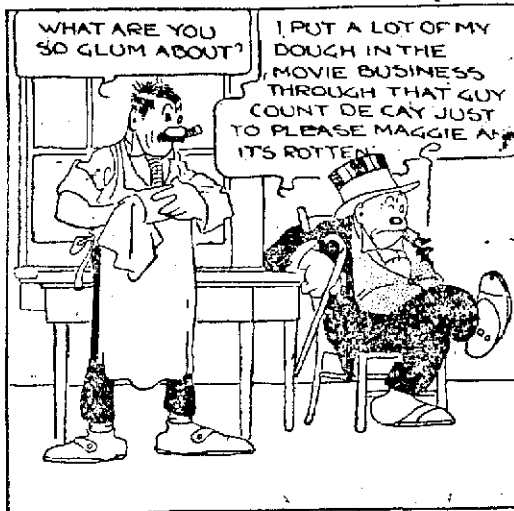

While the republican national convention has allotted Wisconsin two additional delegates to the convention, bringing the total number to 28, some doubt is expressed by the office of the secretary of state over legal problems involved in certifying more than 26 Wisconsin representatives for each party. The statute calls for two delegates from each congressional district and four at large, while the republican committee would allow the state six delegates-at-large.

The attorney general is soon to be asked for an opinion to determine whether the added delegates can legally be added to the Wisconsin sections in view of the statute according to George Brown, in charge of election division of the secretary of state's department.

Delegate elections, April 1, 1924, will give the first test of strength between conservative and La Follette progressive factions of the republican party in Wisconsin since the 1922 elections when the La Follette candidates swept the state with unprecedented majorities.

HARDING'S PAPER DESERTS THE RANKS OF REPUBLICANS

Marion Star to be Independent Hereafter Publishers Announce Monday

MARION, Ohio.—The Marion Star, owned by President Harding until before his Alaska trip, hereafter will be an independent newspaper, its publishers announced Monday.

The Marion Star was purchased by Mr. Harding after his republicanism had got him discharged from the Marion Tribune—he insisted on wearing a Blaine hat on the job—and since the 80's has been one of the strong republican papers of Ohio.

Roy D. Moore and L. B. Bush, who purchased the Star from Mr. Harding and its morning contemporary, the Marion Tribune, made the announcement in conjunction with notice that they had suspended publication of the Tribune.

"The modern requirements of a newspaper are too severe to permit two complete representative and independent newspapers in a city the size of Marion," said the announcement.

MORE THAN THIRTY THOUSAND SPENT FOR RELIEF OF TORNADO VICTIMS COMMITTEE REPORTS

MADISON, Wis.—A total of $35,811.09 was raised by the special tornado relief committee appointed by Governor John J. Blaine for the mitigation of suffering occasioned by the storm that swept Barron, Dunn, Polk and St. Croix counties last year. Ernest S. Warner, chairman of the state tornado relief committee, announced Tuesday.

Of the amount collected $32,189.57 was spent on relief work and Mr. Warner suggests that the balance be turned over to the Red Cross chapter in the four counties suffering from the destructive wind.

The largest amount was spent in St. Croix county, totalling $13,127.53. Dunn county received $3,650; Barron, $11,410; Polk county, $3,565; emergency to all counties, $427.04.

Complete details of the work accomplished were submitted in a report to Governor Blaine. Relief of immediate suffering and distress of the victims and rehabilitation of those who needed help to start them again efficiently and independently on their ways was the work of the committee.

"The territory devastated by this storm included a well-developed dairy region, settled by a very thrifty class of farmers," the report states. "No towns or villages were damaged to any extent, practically the entire loss being upon the farms."

"The tornado, which was one of the most destructive in the history of the state, swept across the counties of Barron, Polk, Dunn and St. Croix. About 217 families were affected, and eight lives were lost. A complete destruction of property occurred in 14 families."

"The first needs of the victims of this destructive storm were for the necessities of life, food, clothing, shelter for both man and beast—for in many places the farm buildings were totally destroyed, cooking and washing utensils, beds, bedding, etc."

Members of the committee included Harry D. Baker, St. Croix Falls, Wis.; Harry H. Smith, New Richmond, Wis.; P. A. E. Van Meter, New Richmond; Miss Emily Sims, Clear Lake, Wis.

"Supply depots were established at convenient points and ample supplies of everything required to meet immediate needs were provided for all."

BATTERY B'S WEEKLY BULLETIN

Owing to the strenuous demands of fair week, the boys seemed to lack some of the old-time pep, so for some reasons the battery is glad fair week is over. We know that next Monday's drill will be a little more peppy, as several are now at work on some surprises, especially among the teams, (Bore-Sighters—Peep-Sighters—Hard-Sighters), who are working hard towards the goal of a big feat.

The battery had remembrances of Private Russel Schickorowsky who is attending Marquette University, and also from Ex-Sergeant Frank Koenig who is now in the employ of a Chicago firm and is visiting friends here for a day or two.

Russ writes that he is keeping in practice for K. P. duty at camp next year as he is doing some deep sea stunts in addition to going to school. No accidents of any kind reported during the evening, but it was noticed that "Loopy" Marcus had his car parked behind a "Stone Wall" so that it would not get the paint scratched.

The cannoneers received very interesting and useful information last night upon the preparation of Firing Data from Lt. G. D. Scott. The detail also sat in on this to their great benefit. The drivers had the pleasantest of times.

"Supply depots were established at convenient points and ample supplies of everything required to meet immediate needs were provided for all."

It is just the kind of weather that is enjoyable for horseback riding and the boys are taking advantage of their riding privilege; but it is hoped that still more will avail themselves of their opportunity to take the most beneficial kind of exercise, while we know that an artillery man that can not ride is a mighty poor asset to any organization.

Members of the battery are asked to not overlook the fact that they have an obligation to fulfill on Monday night and to keep that evening for that one purpose. FARMER ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

WATKINS, Wis.—Anton Biel of Stratford, aged 22 years, was accidentally shot through the heart and instantly killed late Monday at that place. The deceased had gone to the Motor Inn to secure a pistol from William Spindler, aged 23, with which to kill some hogs. He was given an automatic pistol, but it contained two cartridges he was unable to remove. He asked Mr. Spindler to remove them and he attempted the task. One was removed safely when the second was discharged the ball passing through Mr. Biel's heart. Coroner W. C. Mel-lahn investigated and decided that an inquest was not necessary there being no doubt but the shooting was clearly accidental.
